

LIME JUICE MONEY

JO MOREY

1. Discuss the significance of the title “Lime Juice Money.” How does it relate to the overarching themes and events in the novel?
2. Exploring the dynamics between Laelia and her sister Chloe, how do their different personalities and past experiences shape their interactions?
3. How does the setting of Belize contribute to the story? In what ways does the author use the environment to enhance the narrative?
4. Discuss the character of Aid and his impact on Laelia and her family. How does his past in Belize influence his current interactions with them?
5. Examine the role of memory in the narrative. How do the characters’ memories shape their current actions and relationships?
6. What are the implications of the various forms of love and relationships depicted in the novel?
7. How does Ellis’ passion for orchids and his past influence his relationships with his daughters?
8. Discuss how the theme of loss is portrayed. How do the characters cope with various forms of loss throughout the story?
9. Explore the influence of Mounia on Laelia’s understanding of her father and her own life.
10. How do characters show resilience in the face of adversity?
11. How does the author use sensory details to enhance the reader’s experience of the setting and events?
12. Examine how cultural identity is depicted in the novel. How do characters navigate their identities in relation to Belize and their backgrounds?
13. Discuss how communication, or lack thereof, affects the characters’ relationships in the novel.
14. Reflect on the roles of suspense and tension throughout the novel and their effectiveness in driving the narrative forward.
15. Analyze the novel’s ending. How does it resolve the characters’ journeys and central themes? •